ARTS AND CREATIVITY MONTH
at Alameda County Library

In honor of Art IS Education in March, Alameda County Library is presenting a series of 300 free arts events for youth, adults, and families! This is the 9th year that Alameda County Library has worked in partnership with the Alameda County Arts Commission and the Alameda County Office of Education to expand the reach of this annual countywide arts education celebration that began in 2000.

The Art IS Education theme at Alameda County Library is Community Faces, Community Places. This series of events provides inspiring ways for you and your family to:

Spark your imagination, explore your creativity, and express yourself!
Try new art techniques, engage with fresh ideas, and keep learning at every age.
Connect with each other through art making, deepen family bonds, and celebrate community.

In addition to the events listed in this booklet, there are many more! For more information, visit the Alameda County Library website at www.aclibrary.org.

These events are presented through the support and shared vision of New Beginnings and the Alameda County Arts Commission's program 100 Families, which brings together diverse and intergenerational families with the goal of enhancing the well-being of the family unit and the broader community.

The Library and Arts Commission often photograph programs and program participants to share images and stories about individual and community creativity. These images are used in documentation, education, and promotion materials. By being present during these activities, you consent to the use of your and your family members’ appearances or likenesses by the Library, Arts Commission, and its licensees, designees, or assignees, in all media, worldwide, in perpetuity, such as for promotion and public art.
Learn More about Alameda County Library

In addition to books and events, Alameda County Library provides a wide range of services:

Bookmobile:
Meet up with this library on wheels to browse the materials, meet neighbors, and expand your horizons.

Tech Resources:
Use digital devices in the Library or at home through the "Tech It Out" program, including laptops and wifi hotspots.

Discover and Go:
Get free and low-cost tickets to museums, science centers, zoos, theatres, and other fun, local cultural venues.

Web Resources:
